

UNCONTESTED DIVORCE VIRGINIA

EASY, FAST & AFFORDABLE

Frequently, many clients believe that since both parties agree that they want a divorce, the divorce is uncontested. This perception is not entirely accurate.

Although both parties may want a divorce, a truly uncontested divorce means that both parties have met certain statutory criteria in terms of living separate and apart. Also, all issues regarding child custody, property, support, debts, and so on have been resolved and there are absolutely no marital issues to be resolved.

The court procedure for obtaining an uncontested divorce varies from state to state and even from county to county. For example, the court procedure to obtain an uncontested divorce in Roanoke is different from the procedure to obtain an uncontested divorce in Northern Virginia .

If you wish to obtain an uncontested divorce in Virginia an experienced divorce lawyer from SRIS, P.C. can assist you with this type of matter.

How your divorce is handled may make all the difference in world as to how your life progresses from this traumatic event. Don't let someone who will not keep you informed as to the status of your divorce case keep you in the dark. The relationship you have with your divorce attorney during this very difficult period can have a substantial impact on your mental health. You need and deserve a divorce lawyer who is looking out for you.

How can a SRIS Law Group divorce lawyer help you?

First and foremost, we will discuss your divorce case with you. We will explain to you the different options you have and the pros and cons of each option. We do not require divorce clients to come in and sit down and talk with us. Certainly, our clients are welcome to come in and talk with us. However, we understand that clients are very busy and may not have the time to come to the office. Therefore, we allow clients to consult with us by phone first and let the clients decide whether they need to come in and meet with their divorce attorney.
